At that time a point was made against the Canal Bill that it was new legisla-tion, and under the rules of the House, no new legislation can be engrafted on a regular appropriation bill, unless it be approved by the committee having that appropriation bill in charge. Un-der that rule, the Canal Bill was kept

Congress, an appropriation of nearly $2,000,000 was passed to defray the expenses of the commission to investi-gate and report upon the canal routes across the isthmus, and the bill mak ing this appropriation was so worded as to make it the beginning of legis-lation for the Nicaraguan Canal, of which the money appropriated then was the first appropriation. So, that legislation having passed Congress in the form it did, the present Canal Bill is but a continuance of the work started then, and therefore is in order upon the appropriation bills. Later in the day, another mass meeting was held to consider a proposition to destroy all the liquor that had been seized by the Sheriff and stored at the Courthouse. A motion that this be done was defeated, but after the meeting adjourned most of those in attendance went to the courthouse and demanded the liquor. The deputy in charge made a tame effort to protect the property, but to no ayall. The employes turned the liquor into the gutter, and taking the bar fixtures outside, burned them in the street, making the work of destruction complete.

Pacification of Panay of Great Importance.

Event Places End of the War in Sight.

Thousands Take Oath of Allegiance-Soldier Writes of Military Methods.

IBY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS-A.M. NEW YORK, Feb. 11 .- A special to the Tribune from Washington says that the large island of Panay, of which Hollo is the chief port, has been which Hollo is the chief port, has been one of the most vexatious hotbeds of insurrection and resistance to the American regime in the whole Philippins Archipelago, and the announcement that its pacification has now been practically accomplished, was one of the most gratifying messages received by the War Department in the last week. The Tribune has just received from an officer on duty in Panay an interesting letter, written Panay an interesting letter, written just before Christmas, giving an ac-count of the achievement, which is one count of the achievement, which is one of the absorbing topics throughout the Philippines, especially as the lead of Panay is apt to be pdomptly followed in other islands. He says, in part: "Most of the officers on duty throughout the fourth district, Department of the Visayas, have had litpartment of the Visayas, have had little or no sympathy with anything relating to civil government. They believed the time was not ripe for it, and that military administration was all that the circumstances demanded or justified. Although this spirit was thoroughly understood at district quarters, and fully taken account of, nevertheless the district commander, Col. Edmund Rice, Twenty-sixth Infantry, U.S.V., insisted on his policy being carried out of combining as much as possible the civil and the military.

"On October 30, 1900, the command-ing officer of the Circle of Jaro reported that not even the three residents nec-cessary to act as election judges were cut the Gordian knot. Through acting as counsel before a military commission in defense of some newspaper publishing seditious articles, he won the friendship and esteem of the most clever and influential clique of the Island of Panay. These were men of wealth, education and travel and called themselves 'neutrais,' so far as the war was concerned. After the trial, the lieutenant had kept in touch with them and has brought much influence to bear on them to make them 'pro-American.'

"It is well to make it plain what this 'neutrality' or apparent apathy meant. On December 21 the record of ouths taken in Panay was as follows: Jaro, 489; Molo, 2810; Pototam, 2439; Cabatuan, 1892; Leon, 1739; Tigbauan, 452; Oton, 231; Cordovas, 277; San Miguel, 1714; Alimodial, 265; St. Barbara, 662; Illoilo, 2731; Barotace, 3170; Mandurrian, 560; Magdor, 107; Guimbal, 112; Ibbaras, 169; San Joaquin, 35; La Paz, 516. 55.884.

"This absolute change of front has a deep significance to a soldier who for two years has closely studied these people, their customs and their mode of thought. They have prated about their former government, have resisted all pressure and have kept a good front; but now they are coming over their former government, have resisted all pressure and have kept a good front; but now they are coming over to the Americans with a rush and they are warm, too, in their enthusiasm.

"With the Island of Panay becoming Americanised at the rate of 1500 a day, the end is in sight. Divested of the support from the towns, the bands of insurgents that still exist must languish and disintegrate, and when they can no longer operate, the native scouts and police can soon (and with much delight) wipe out the other bane, the ladrones or robbers. Then the few remaining problems will rapidly solve themselves."

MANILA, Feb. 11.—[By Manila Ca ble.] Bids will be advertised for in a few days for harbor improvements at Manila for which $1,000,000 of insular unds has been appropriated. The im-rovements will consist chiefly in the extension of the brenkwater which the extension of the breakwater which the Spaniards had nearly completed, and dredging inside to a depth of thirty feet. MADRID, Feb. 11.—[By Atlantic Cable.] Count Caserta, father of Frince Charles of Bourbon, spent the afternoon yesterday in the grounds of the palace. The Countess also did not leave the palace precincts.

In an interview today Señor Sagasta, the Liberal leader, said he disapproved of the noisy demonstrations, but recognized that they were the outcome of the existing situation, which was aggravated by the Ubao affair. He thought the presence of Count Caserta in Madrid was unnecessary and that he ought not to have attended the marriage, as he might have foreseen that his presence would create trouble. Señor Sagasta severely condemned the brutality of the police, declaring that no law authorized the government to order the police to club the crowds, even though they raised subversive cries. The offenders ought to be arrested, he said.

"The government," added Señor Sagasta, "hopes the agitation will cease the day of the wedding, but I doubt it. A carnival is often the occasion for disorders. I am astonished that many people do not attach importance to these events. It is impossible to foresee what the future has in store. We know how events begin, but we never know how they will end."

The Imparcial says that a lieutenant and two soldiers were among the persons arrested yesterday. The lieutenant was immediately released, amid cheers for the army.

CROWDS RAISE A ROAR.

(BT THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS-A.W. MADRID, Feb. 11.—The disturbance MADRID, Feb. 11.—The disturbances of last night, which were more menacing than those previously occurring, left a decided spirit of uncasiness in official circles. The day passed without a startling incident, but the crowdin creased during the day. The idle classes have been wandering in the streets, apparently waiting the cover of night to give vent to their hatred of the aristocracy.

The Puerta del Soi (a large square in the center of the city) was the principal gathering spot. Mounted civil guards patrolled it all day long. With the fall of night the assemblage increased until the square was black with people. The signal cries and the low-toned murmurings were becoming louder until the outcry almost became a roar.

At 7 o'clock the guards cleared the space and their numbers were in-creased, for the carriages of the higher class of people, diplomats and others, have to traverse the square in going to the ball at the palace tonight. As the Papal Nuncio's carriage was stoned yesterday evening, it is feared the other diplomats may now suffer.

Information reached the police Sunday night through David Perry, a saloon-keeper, that a large party of men had left that city for St. Louis with the expressed intention of taking part in the primaries here.

Upon the opening of the primaries, it is said, they were to be supplied with guns and ammunition. Their instructions, the police declare, were to vote at the primaries as often as told to do so, and to use force with anybdyo who interfered with them, whether police, election officials or party workers.

The police say the arrangements for bringing the men to St. Louis were made by two candidates for nomination to the House of Delegates.

KENTUCKY'S MOB METHODS.

George Carter, a Negro, is Quietly Hanged.

Victim Was Accused of Brutal Assault.

Warning Placard Pinned to the Corpse at the Entrance to Courthouse.

BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS-A.M. PARIS (Ky.,) Feb. 11.—George Carter, a negro, who was in jail here charged with having assaulted Mrs. W. E. Board, about three weeks ago, was lynched by a mob early this morning. Shortly after 2 o'clock about thirty determined men appeared at the jail door and demanded admittance of Jailer Kiser. He refused and the door was burst of ... was in the hands of the mob. He re-fused to make any statement.

It was only the work of a minute to place a rope around his neck, and he was then half-dragged to the en-trance of the courthouse. The rope was then thrown over the iron arch leading to the entrance and, while sev-eral pulled on the rope, others lifted his body. He died by strangulation. The mob then quietly dispersed. During the whole affair there was not a word

Before the men dispersed they pinned a card on the body of the negro bearing this inscription: "This will be the fate of all negroes who assault white women."

The other occupants of the jail who are colored were greatly frightened, and their cries and moaning could be heard for several blocks. Half an hour after the lynching occurred the streets were desorted and the lifeless body of the negro was swaying in the wind. wind.
The crime with which carter was

The crime with which Carter was charged was a most atroclous one. Mrs. Board, who is the wife of W. E. Board, book-keeper at the Deposit Bank in this city, was on her way home about 6 o'clock in the evening with her little son when she was assaulted by a negro. Her cries and those of her son attracted the attention of some men, but the assailant escaped.

Constant efforts were made by the police to detect the negro, but without avail until last week, when Bessie Smoot of Ruckerville caused a warrant to be issued for George Carter, her brother-in-law, on a charge of assault. A photograph was secured of him, which, it is said, Mrs. Board identified as being that of her assailant, and at the County Jail her little son also identified him.

New England Roads Object to the Proposal Which Would Give the Espee a Share of the Business to the Pacific Coast.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) NEW YORK, Feb. 11.—(Exclusive Dispatch.] Rates through the Wash-ington gateway to the Pacific Coast States from eastern points will not be changed so as to conform with those charged through northern gateways. This decision was reached today at a meeting of representatives of all the passenger associations in the country. This action is the culmination of vari-ous conferences extending back for a ous conferences extending back for a period of nine months, at which the advisability of such change was dis-cussed. The question was agitated by the Southern Pacific Company, which desired to get a share of the west-bound business from New Eng-land. The Southern Pacific wanted to have the rates to the Coast through Washington and New Orleans equal zed with those through the northern gateways. The New England rail-roads objected. At the meeting today the general consensus of opinion was that no change in rates was neces-sary, on the ground of fairness. The impression has prevailed that this meeting had been called on account of the reduced rates recently announced by President Hays of the Southern Pacific. This is not the case. These rates from New Orleans to the Pacific Coast points are in line with the $30 tourist rate from Chicago, Three Men Employed at Bellevue

BRITISH OFFICIALS DENY RUMOR (BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS-A.M.)
LONDON, Feb. 11.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The officials of the Home Office say there is no foundation whatever for the report that Mrs. Florence May-brick has been pardoned. An official of the United States embassy said to a representative of the Associated Press: "It does not need Home Office denial to prove the abso-Home Office denial to prove the absolute baselessness of the Maybrick story. We would be the first to be notified of any such action or proposed action by the British government. Not a single fact has arisen to give the slightest justification for the story, or to make the release of Mrs. Maybrick more probable than heretofore."

The official denial of the pardoning of Mrs. Maybrick would have been insued earlier but for the red-tape rule of the Home Office, which alone of all the British government departments requires that press inquiries shall be made in writing and be answered through the mails. The only exception known was made this afternoon for the benefit of the Associated Press. CHOATE HAS BEEN WORKING. By the New Associated Press—A.M.1

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—The State Department has not been advised of the reported intention of the British government to pardon Mrs. Maybrick.
It is said, however, that Ambassador Choate has lost no opportunity at all proper times to work toward that end, and it is understood that his efforts have been particularly energetic of late. Of course, these must be unorficial, for it would not be permissible for the case to be made the subject of formal exchanges.

Secretary Hay, while Ambassador at London, did all that he could in Mrs. Maybrick's behalf, and what Ambassador Choate is now doing is simply in continuation of that movement. It is hoped, however, that he is working under much more favorable auspices, and that success is near at hand. DIS THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS-A.M.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 11.—In the opinion, read by Judge Ross, the court holds that the filing of the citation in the District Court at Nome was sufficient to give the Court of Appeals jurisdiction, but in proper cases may be considered in mitigation of the offense. At this point in the decision the court refers to the acts of Judge Noyes and the manner in which affairs were conducted at Nome. It says:

"The circumstances attending the appointment of a receiver in these cases, however, and his conduct after, as well as before the appointment, as shown by the record and evidence, so far from impressing us with the sincerity of the pretension that his refusal to obey the writs issued out of this court was based upon the advice of his courts was based upon the advice of his courts was intentional and deliberate, and in furtherance of the high-handed and grossly illegal proceedings initiated almost as soon as Judge Noyes and McKensie had set foot on Alaskan territory at Nome, and which may be safely and fortunately said to have no parallel in the jurisprudence of this country.

"And it speaks well for the good, safely and fortunately said to have no parallel in the jurisprudence of this country.

"And it speaks well for the good, sober sense of the people gathered on that remote and barren shore that they depended solely upon the courts for the correction of the wrongs thus perpetrated among and against them, which always may be depended upon to right, sooner or later, wrongs properly brought before them. And it is well in these days of the rapid extension of our national domain, for all persons, whether residing in remote regions or nearer home, to remember that courts which respect themselves and have due regard for the administration of justice and the maintenance of law and order, will never tolerate any disobedience of their lawful orders, writs or judgments, wherever committed within their jurisdiction.

"It is inherent within the judicial authority,' said the Supreme Court of Florida, in the case of the State vs. Johnson, supra, that every court may protect and maintain its jurisdiction under the law, and that it shall protect itself against all attempts to resist, thwart or overthrow its authority,' "Judge Ross closed by ordering that McKenzle be confined in the San Francisco county jall for six months on each charge, one term to succeed the gther. Her Commissioners to Make Report to the Ministers. Meeting Today.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] peking, feb. 11.—[By Asiatic Cable.] The Empress Dowager is inclined to be argumentative regarding the infliction of capital punishment on the guilty officials. She telegraphed to Li Hung Chang today, demanding to know what the foreigners mean by changing the terms of the peace proposals. She says the terms demanded sewerer punishment of leaders in proportion to their crimes than what China agreed to inflict, yet now the severer punishment of leaders in proportion to their crimes than what China agreed to inflict, yet now the foreigners demand the heads of all. The Empress adds that she fails to see anything proportionate about that, and declares that she will carry out her agreement, but go no further.

She says that Ying Nien is an unimportant official, and never was a leader of the Boxers. He may, however, have been a follower. Chao Hsu Kiam did go out to meet the Boxers, but was only obeying orders. The Empress insists that the death penalty in their cases is not proportionate to the ministers and call attention to the original agreement. This quibble is characteristic of Chinese diplomacy. All that is needed now is to tighten the screws, and the Empress will ca-said:

"It is now about sixty years since China first opened her doors to the so-called barbarians. The opium war, with all its evils, was the hammer which shattered the door of Chinese isolation. The war with Japan virtually broke down all her doors and treaty ports speedily multiplied; she has now nearly 400 miles of railroad in operation, and nearly 4000 miles projected. Within the last five years cotton spinning has become an induscotton spinning has become an indus try, and she has over 400,000 spindles in over two thousand looms. States Supreme Court a supplemental brief in the insular cases, reviewing some of the points raised by opposing townsel, which had not hitherto been covered by the government. One of the questions discussed is that as to the questions of the treaty takes effect.

Mr. Carlisle insisted that the transfer of sovereignty, under the decisions of this court, takes place in the case of conquered territory at the date of the conquest, and in the case of territory, deeded after purchase, at the date of the treaty.

Delying, Mr. Richards said that while it is true that a treaty is considered binding from date of its signature a different rule prevails where the treaty operates on individual richts. He concludes:

"As the individual citizen, upon whose rights of property it operates, has no means of knowing anything of it while before the Senate, it would be wrong in principle to hold him bound by it, as the law of the land, and the construe the law so as to make the ratification of the treaty relate back to its signing, thereby divesting a title already vested, would be manifestly unjust, and cannot be sanctioned."

"There may be other nations with more territory, larger history and greater military power, but there is none in which the right of man is defended as here. If an effort made to establish popular government fails, we may well believe the failure will be final and irretrievable. The last hopes of mankind rest with us. The knell of human liberty may be sounded, if our government fails. government falls.

"Dangers beset the development of the republic in which there is no re-straint except that which the citizens themselves impose. The danger is that the people may forget constitutional compact and override the right of the many. SACRAMENTO, Feb. 11.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The present indications are that the State Water and Forest Asthat the State Water and Forest Association will not secure from this Legislature the appropriation of $107,000 which it has asked for the alleged purpose of making a joint investigation with the Federal government of the water and forest resources of the State. If it does fail in its efforts, it will not have been, however, the fault of the powerful lobby now here to work for the appropriation, which is to be expended by a commission to be appointed by the Governor, to serve without other pay than $200 per month expenses.

The first amendment is to the effect that a report to the authorities of the existence of the disease mentioned does not constitute a felony provision from the publication of news of cases of serve without other pay than $200 per month expenses.

Committeemen All Agree That no Evidence Was Brought Out Reflecting Upon the Honesty of the Commissioners-Governor's Wishes a Factor.

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 11.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Assembly Committee on Commissions and Public Expenditures returned today from the South. A meeting was held immediately after the afternoon adjournment, and the report which the committee will make on the investigation of the Paris Ex-position Commission was discussed for more than an hour behind closed doors. Before adjourning the members fact that it expects to make its re-

Some of the members of the majority want to know what kind of a report the Governor desires them to file, and if he indicates what he wants file, and if he indicates what he wants those who would do almost anything at his dictation, will hold out for his kind of a report. One point on which all the members of the committee seem to agree is that from the evidence there is nothing to show that any of the Paris commissioners were dishonest, and there was nothing which reflects upon their integrity. Extravaflects upon their integrity. Extravagance in the expenditure of the State's money was their greatest fault. Chairman Bliss was asked whether the report would mention the drunkenness of Commissioner Truman, his having taken wine from headquarters and other acts of his. Bliss declined to discuss the report. That Emlay will come in for a severe roasting is almost certain, but whether his side-partner, Varney Gaskill, will be touched at all will depend, as well most other points in the report, upon what Gov. Gage desires.

It is openly asserted by some of the members of the committee tonight that there will be no minority report upon the Paris Exposition scandal. They declare that seven members of the committee have practically agreed upon a report, and that they have been able to show Melick that he cannot stand out against them. If their statements are true it means that they have either placated Melick and have com-promised with him, or that he has fallen down in his determination to flic his own report regardless of what the others of the committee may do.

experiences, which showed that while the police were always willing to help them in the rescue work when called upon, the officers were lukewarm, and always pleaded that they were afraid to break in doors and commit an illegal act. The ladies also proved that white men acted as watchmen for the Chinese houses of ill fame and prevented the rescue of the immates who were forced to lead a degraded life. United States Commissioner H. H. North also testified to the investigation he made two years ago of the highbinders and the slavery question, and was positive that girls had been bought and sold in this city.

At the conclusion of the afternoon session, the committee took the testimony of Chinese slave girls at the Methodist and Presbyterian missions, and at night several police officers were examined on points which developed nothing of importance. —Paris Inquirers Divided. ## THE PLAYHOUSES.

BURBANK THEATER. Harrington Reynolds is having things pretty much his own way at the Burbank this week. He is playing the part of Cyrus Blenkarn, in Henry Arthur Jones's florid emotional drama, "The Middleman." It usually falls to the of the heavy villain; and in roles of this character he has won more hisses than any other member of the Frawley Company. But in the char-acter of Blenkarn he has a role which ence, and holds it to the finish. Mr. Reynolds gives a virile and impressive rendition of this character. The make-up is excellent, and in all its details the work of Mr. Reynolds is deserving of high praise. It is, in fact, convincing. From first to last, the actor keeps well within the limitations of the character, never lapsing from it nor slipping out of it for a moment. In the more intense scenes he is invariably equal to the occasion. Mr. Reynolds received curtain after curtain on the opening night, and won them all by honest, consistent, artistic work.

"The Middleman" is, to a consider-able extent, a "one-part play." There are several other characters with at-tributes more or less striking, but the interest all revolves about the charac-ter of Blenkarn as about a central sun. Mary Blenkarn is a sweetly pa-thetic fleure, and it is given appropri-

A piece of bad management, which should be corrected, is the building of an open fire in a fireplace on the stage in the second act, with no provision for carrying off the smoke. The audience was subjected to great inconvenience because of this smoke on the opening night. Better leave out this bit of realism than to asphyxiate the audience. Better still, a gas grate or a stovepipe to draw off the smoke.

"The Middleman" is billed for all this week, with regular Saturday matines. On Wednesday afternoon the first of a series of special matinese is to be given, the patrons of the Burbank selecting the play by ballot. The play thus selected for next Wednesday is "Mme. Despite the fact this attraction is a holdover, it leads the procession.

Of the new features, the turn done by the Brothers Bard is clearly the best, and the athletic feats of the two actors are remarkable. They are not many, but several are entirely new, and all are well executed.

Foy and Clark are laugh makers, but their sketch, "In the Spring of Youth," is absolutely ridiculous; much too ferfetched to be funny. And it is not calculated to bring out talent, if such there be. At least it is not shown.

Warren and Blanchard in "My Valet" take their parts well, but the turn is worthless. The parts are not good, though the acting may be, and were it not for a clever song at the

The rest of the bill is holdover, and some of it is good. The imitation of Sis Hopkins in an original sketch by Swigette and Clark, continues to call forth well-merited applause, and Hacker and Lester in their comical trick bicycle-riding act do their part in making fun for the audience.

The Montmartrols trio, takes most of the applause, and some of the selections are deserving, but to the elephants belongs the palm.

When the coal miners of northern Colorado went on strike for an advance in pay, six weeks ago, the United Mine Workers of America sent John L Gehr into Huerfano and other counties in the southern Colorado coal fields to organize the men there for a sympathetic strike. Gehr tried to hold meetings in Walsenburg, the county seat of Huerfano county, and in other towns, but it is alleged he was prevented from doing so by Sheriff Fair and his deputies, who raided the meeting-places, arrested the moving spirits, in many instances assaulted them, and clapped them in jail on trumpedano charges. it First.

(London Telegraph:) The sultan, writes our Constantinopie correspondent, is always fond of new inventions, especially anything mechanical, and takes great interest in them: The palace is full of models of all sorts of machines, from typewriters to an electric launch. His last acquisition is a motor car, which he had instructed Chakir Pasha to bring back from Berlin, where he had been sent to take the suitan's present of a carriage and ponies to the crown princess. Chakir Pasha brought the motor car, and with it a German engineer, so as to make sure it would work smoothly. Last Sunday the sultan ordered that the machine should be tried in the palace grounds, and stationed himself at a window to watch the proceedings. Round about the machine a large crowd of officials and servants had gathered. of officials and servants had gathered The German engineer vainly tried to persuade some of them to ride with him, but no one would venture, and as the sultan was growing impatient

He did not try it himself.

The above recalls to my mind one of the stories I heard in Ispahan about Zill-Isultan, the elder brother of the present shah, who has been for many years governor of Ispahan and the surrounding provinces. The Zill and often heard of boats, but had never seen one, and asked the English telegraph men who were in Ispahan to build him one, which they did. The Zil was delighted, and had the river dammed and gave a great dinner, with fireworks to all the foreigners, while the English showed how the boat was worked. The Zil then ordered several of the high officials to get in, and they had to obey, in terrible fear, as they had never been in a boat before. The more frightened they got the more he put in, till the boat was nearly sinking. He then had it pushed out into the stream and enjoyed his courtiers are mentations and prayers for liberation. One at last called out that he would gladly give a thousand tomans to be out of the boat. The Zil, who is always keen on getting money, at once a closed with him and let him out, and then went on to ransom the others. are several other characters with attributes more or less striking, but the interest all revolves about the character of Blenkarn as a bout—a central sun. Mary Blenkarn is a sweetly parate form and color by Mary Van Burnet, whose impersonation it would be difficult to improve upon, so interpretative is it of suppressed emotion; of inward suffering and its outward symbol of tenderness and gentleness.

The principal comedy characters are those of Nancy Blenkarn and Jesse Pegg. These are enacted by Alice Johnson and J. R. A decree was granted in Judge Con-rey's court yesterday, divorcing Han-nah G. Wilshire from H. Gaylord, Wil-shire, the capitalistic Socialist, who plays golf, posts bills and runs for Congress. The grounds of desertion and marital unfaithfulness were alleged in the complaint, filed Saturday was unable to be in court, and her tes-timony was read from a deposition by her attorneys, George H. Hutton, Esq., and Messrs. Works & Lee. The case was heard behind "closed doors;" consequently her specific accusations are not for public intelligence. But H. Gaylord was there-bland and

But H. Gaylord was there—bland and philosophical, as if he were an outsider watching the domestic tragedy of some acquaintance. His attorneys were Messra. Lee & Scott. The same demeanor characterized Mr. Wilshire yesterday as when he plays golf, makes disturbing speeches in the public-parks, runs for Congress as a hybrid Democrat, or edits a small journal devoted to righting the wrongs of a humanity bled by millionaires, billiboard monopolists and other leeches. One remark of the golfing biliposter in connection with the divorce suit just ended may live in history: "The day of slavery for-negroes and women is past." That's why he didn't offer any opposition to his wife's suit.

The property interests involved in the separation were not touched upon yesterday, having all been settled amicably out of court. Mrs. Wilshire is to be paid alimony in the sum of $225 a month, and has been conveyed property returning an income of $75 a month, so that with $300 a month she will have to met along.

to be paid alimony in the sum of $225 a month, and has been conveyed property returning an income of $75 a month, so that with $300 a month she will have to get along.

This arrangement for her support will make the prosecution of her sult, recently begun for maintenance, unnecessary, and it has been abandoned. In this action Mrs. Wilshire openly charged her husband with deserting her last September and leaving her penniless. She sued for an allowance of $400 a month, and in reciting her husband's means alleged that, besides valuable real holdings in all parts of this city and in Fullecton, he had stock in the Randsburg Railroad Company, valued at $75,000; stock in his billiposting concern, valued at $20,000, and Standard Oil stock, $5000. His income, said she, approximated $1000 a month—$300 from his real estate; $500 from his stocks and bonds, and $200 from his billiposting busin

SOMEBODY BLUNDERED BELCHER'S MARRIAGE LICENSE. "I know the old priest that married them, and I will give him fits." Such were the angry words of a middle-aged Irish woman, who bounced into Deputy County Clerk Sam Kuta's office yesterday with a hundred and one questions about a marriage license that was issued recently to Henry E. that was issued recently to Henry E. Belcher to marry Sara Garcia of Santa Monica. Belcher gave his age as 21 and that of his fiancée as 21 also. The angry Irish woman says "tain't so;" that the boy is not yet of age; that his wife is over 40, and that his father lies sick in Bakersfield. The deputy's visitor loudly announced herself commissioned by the prostrate father to look into the matter, and she promised to make things hum.

If her statements be true, Belcher has perjured himself: although if he is under age, it will scarcely make much difference.

WANTS RELEASE. WIFE IN INSANE ASYLUM. H. J. Warner, who is suing his wife o annul their marriage, was in Judge Allen's department of the Superior Court yesterday, on citation to show why he should not pay her costs in defending her suit.

The court ordered him to pay her $40 within twenty days.

Mrs. Anna H. Warner, the wife, is now an inmate of the insane asylum at Ukiah. The parties were married on June 30, 1893. The husband now sues for annulment on the ground that sues for annulment on the ground that she was not mentally competent when they were wedded, nor had been for a time previous thereto. He says that she herself informed him that she had been in an asylum before their marriage. His complaint also charges cruelty in these later years. The wife's maiden name was Anna Hutchins. Her friends are determined that she shall fight her husband's suit to the bitter end. They contend that, although she is in an insane asylum, she is rational in all respects, but is a nervous wreck. Her defense will be filed within a few days.

Mr. Bowen, who named the present Milk Inspector, wanted to know at once who filed the affidavit. The clerk replied that it was Windeld Scott, city editor of the Herald. This did not tend to placate Mr. Bowen, who wanted to know who was the complaining witness and whether there was any one to lather the charges against Inspector Hood.

"If there is any one here who is willing to back those charges let us investigate at once," said Mr. Bowen.
"But if there is no one who has back bone enough to stand up and present these charges it is beneath the dignity of this body to pay any attention to that affidavit. Who is Mr. Stout? I the stout of the stout o

"But Mr. Palla came to me with a petition for his appointment to the position of Milk Inspector in one hand and the charges against Hood in the other. I told him that if he could show that Mr. Hood had been dishonest I would immediately vote to dismiss him. But his unsupported statement was all that I received.

"I say that any man who will file charges of so serious a nature against a man and then will not support them is beneath the notice of the Council. If the member from the Eighth, who has shown so much interest in this case, cares to father these charges I will make the motion for an investigation now.

"Gentlemen, I have much at stake in this matter and I want to get at the truth. If it can be shown that Mr. Hood or any other man whom I have supported has done anything detrimental to the public interest I will make the motion to discharge him at once."

"Some man ought to come to the front," said President Powers. "Every mother's son of us is ready and willing to fire the Milk Inspector if he isn't straight. But if he is honest he ought to be conserated. I was present when the parties who made the charges retused to sign them."

Mr. Pierce then told how Todd had objected to the passage of the ordinance regulating the milk supply on the ground that its provisions were too stringent. Mr. Todd immediately itumped to his feet and stated that the may reason for his objection to the redinance was that a Durham cowless not give the same grade of milk us a Jersey cow.

Mr. Pierce said he thought the affidavit ought to be consigned to the reaste heaket if there was not some.

is, and I don't care," said Mr. Bowen.
"But I know that out of his own mouth he has convicted himself."
Then Mr. Bowen proceeded to read from the charges which he had his stenographer to take down and which the men refused to sign, alleging that they were the experiences of Stout.

Mr. Hood was called forward and asked if he wished to make a statement when there were no specific changes to answer.
"I think I have as much interest in this matter as anyone," said Mr. Hood. "I have lived here fourteen years, and I was never valled a thief before. I want to know what the specific charges are, and then I will answer. I demand an investigation. I can only make to the general accusation the general denial that it is not so. That is my word against his.

"I did spend two cents a day for awhile to see what the Herald was printing about me, but I have other use for my money."

Mr. Bowen again arraigned the bilind charges, and said the investigation should be held at once, if at all. "If this thing goes much further, I shall have something to say concerning those who have interested themselves in driving from office one of the best deputies the Health Office."

This nottied Mr. Todd, who found in the speech a reference to himself. "I am surprised at the manner in which Mr. Bowen has taken except here to my printed interview." said Mr. Todd. Tax Collector W. A. White has asked the Council for another deputy. He is wanted to collect milk licenses. They have been collected heretofore by the Milk Inspector, but he is now too busy making formaline tests. The matter was referred to the Finance Committee. It is generally understood that this is a place into which C. E. White, who recently resigned the position of meat inspector under pressure, will be dropped. It has been generally recognized for some time, however, that the Milk Inspector has too much to do, and Mr. White says that another man is badly needed.

H. J. Edwards of No. 1033 West Twenty-third street has a grievance. He objects to the "car-piercing, soul-harrowing, nerve-twisting" noise made by the street cars as they go round the curves. Mr. Edwards believes that they keep it up for about twenty hours out of the twenty-four and at intervals of about two and one-half minutes. In his dreams he sees whole trains of cars go shrieking around the curves. There are many other residents of the city who are en rapport with Mr. Edwards's state of mind. To the Board of Public Works has been delegated the duty of investigating the situation.

The deputies in the Street Superintendent's and Water Overseer's office are angry. In an ordinance passed yesterday they were not incorporated as entitled to a star that means free transportation. The ordinance was returned from the Mayor at the request of the Council so that the two clerks of the Police Court could be added to the list. An inspection of the records show that the two sewer inspectors have spent $18.90 in car fare since the first of the year and the inspector of sidewalks has paid $14.60 into the coffers of the street railways. The money comes out of the men's pockets and no provision is made for reimbursement. The deputies think they are entitled to transportation.

Mr. Pierce suggested that the motion to adopt be changed so as to include all the crossings in town just to save trouble. Of course it is impossible for all the walks to be constructed, as not enough money is allowed, but the Councilmen take this easy route, as they say, to "pass the buck" to the Street Superintendent.

A motion introduced by Mr. Walker to change the cross-section of the streets in the hill section was referred to the City Engineer for an estimate of the cost. Mr. Walker's motion contemplates lowering the crown of the street, or raising the curb face until there is four inches between them. The streets will then carry storm water better.

The finale, a soft melody for left hand, subdued with a tinge of sadness, depicts the parting from Los Angeles; a parting somewhat brightened by the hope to return. Mr. De Longpré is to be congratulated on his production.

Miss Jackson. the salute to Los Angeles; No. 2,

On Thursday afternoon at the Simpson Auditorium Miss Leonora Jackson wil give a compilmentary concert for the school children of the medium grades. It is indeed a gracious act on the part of Miss Jackson to extend to the young students of Los Angeles an opportunity of hearing the best in music. It is her custom to give these concerts in all the large cities of America and Mr. Blanchard, her local manager, has persuaded her to include the children of Los Angeles in this charming scheme. No doubt the fact that Miss Jackson herself owes her education entirely to kindly-disposed American ladies, who planned her European studies, has influenced her to make this innovation. The public will not be admitted to this concert, as the entire auditorium has been reserved for the children and their teachers. A few introductory remarks will be made by the Rev. Mr. Cantine, and the children will, at Miss Jackson's special request, rise to their feet and sing "America." Miss Jackson and her company will give their first grand concert on Thursday afternoon.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I am very grateful to you for your kindness of the interest you have taken in me, and truly believe that your medicines and advice are worth more to a woman than all the doctors in the world. My troubles began with inflammation and hemorrhages from the kidneys, then inflammation, congestion and falling of the womb, and inflammation, congestion and falling of the womb, and inflammation of the ovaries. I underwent local treatment every day for some time; then, after nearly two months, the doctor gave me permission to go back to work. I went back, but in less than a week was compelled to give up and go to bed. On breaking down the second time, I decided to let doctors and medicines alone and try your remedies. Before the first bottle was gone I felt the effects of it. Three bottles of Lydia E. Plinkham's Vegetable Compound and a package of Sanative Wash did me more good than all the doctors' treatments and medicine. I have gained twelve pounds during the medicine. I have gained twelve pounds during the dadvice and attention, I remain. Yours gratefully.

forte passages (con fuoco) loses much of the tonal quality, which is perhaps unavoidable on such an instrument as the mandolin. The intermezzo ("Cavalleria Rusticana") was also beautifully rendered. Many regret that Mr. Siegel yielded to the demand for an encore after his last number. "Nearer Ma God to Thee" is unsuitable for such a concert as that of last night, and Mr. Siegel's treatment of the old air, which is so dear to many hearts, was neither reverent nor artistic. Miss Winston's was most enjoyable, even though her voice showed the effects of a cold. Her enunciation is so clear and her phrasing so excellent that it is always a pleasure to hear her. Miss Cuthbert gave two readings very acceptably. Miss Donoghue made a sympathetic accompanist. The performers were all recipients of handsome floral offerings.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 1i.—[To the Editor of The Times:] In your paper of February 7 you very kindly published a letter written by me urging everybody to write the proper representatives in the State Legislature demanding favorable action upon two game bills, one aiming to protect the meadow lark, the other to put an effect used stop to the slaughter of game by the game hog and market hunter. The protect the meadow lark who the other to put an effect of the content of the bill as "Assembly Bill. No. 625." I do not know the number of the Meadow Lark Bill, but that name will be understood. I cannot repeat what I wrote the other to put an effect of the other to quantity of the slaughter of game by the game hog and market hunter. Practicing what I preached, I wrote to No. 1007 South Union avenue.

Mrs. Mooney created some merriment by, quoting a stanza of a toreador's song which it was customary for a bullifighter to sing as he entered the arena. Freely translated, without regard to rhyme or meter, the words were as follows:

"Bring out the pinto (speckled) bull, son of the brown cow.

I have a desire to fight him in front of this lady.

If I do not kill him I will not be buried in consecrated ground.

If he kill me, let me be buried in the cattle corral."

PIONEER JOURNALISM.

The most valuable contribution to the evening's entertainment, was Prof. J. M. Guinn's paper on "La Estrella, they Floneer Newspaper of Los Angeles." It will be fifty years on the 17th of paxt May since this newspaper was founded. Prof. Guinn suggested the propriety of celebrating the semi-centennial of the event, as marking an epoch in the history of the city, much of its progress being due to newspaper enlightenment.

It is interesting to note that the first newspaper published in Los Angeles was subsidized by the City Council, to the extent of providing a home for it. Prof. Guinn quoted as follows from the minutes of the Council dated October 18, 1859.

"Theodore Foster petitions for a lot situated at the northerly corner of the fail for the purpose of erecting thereon a house to be used as a printing house offess to the advancement of public enlightenment in this city,

Such is the relative standing of the tan leading candidates in the free scholarship contest eight days prior to the end of the competition. The parties named will have the choice of ten free courses of study in the order named, unless the count in the general contest brings other candidates to the front with enough coupons to win, according to the terms of the contest brings other candidates to the front with enough coupons to win, according to the terms of the contest, or causes a rearrangement of the relative standing of the present leaders.

It will be observed by a perusal of the totals printed below, that the lowest number of coupons to the credit of any of the prospective winners at present is 6812. Therefore, it will be necessary to surpass that number in order for any new name to be in order for any new name to be included in the list of the lucky ten. Those now in the lead will have to look well to their laurels, for the last week of the contest is likely to furnish some surprises. The only way to make sure of getting one of the free scholarships is to keep on working.

The desk of Representative D. Shaw of New York, late commander-in-chief of the G.A.R., who died suddenly Sunday morning, was draped in black and covered with flowers when the House met today. The chaplain, in his invocation, referred feelingly to Gen. Shaw's death. Owing to the extreme pressure of the public business, it was decided by the House leaders that it would be inexpedient to adjourn immediately out of respect to his memory. Mr. Tawney of Minnesota, a member of the Ways and Means Committee asked for a division of the proposition, so as to vote separately upon disagreement and the request for a conference. This was agreed to, and the House, without division, voted to disagree to the substitute. The main question was then precipitated by Mr. Tawney. The House, he said, had just voted to disagree to a substitute for a war revenue bill which substitute had originated in the Senate. Under the Constitution, he insisted, the Senate had no power to originate revenue legislation, and, he made the point of order that the House could not ask for a conference upon a measure originating in the upper house of Congress contrary to the Constitution without becoming a party to the violation made by the Senate, and without waiving its constitutional privilege to originate revenue legislation. SPEAKER DECIDES IT.

IBY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS-P.M. ardson of Tennessee made the point that Mr. Tawney's point of order that Mr. Tawney's point of order came too late, the House already having considered the Senate substitute by deciding to non-concur in it. Mr. Tawney combatted this contention.

Mr. Payne, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, said the question was one for the conscience of members, not for the Speaker to decide.

Mr. Grow of Pennsylvania took the same view, as did Mr. Dalzell of Pennsylvania. The latter said the question of whether the prerogatives of the House had been infringed, was to be determined by the House itself. When Mr. Dalzell, however, declared that in his opinion the Senate substitute was a volation of the Constitution, his statement was received with an outburst of applause on the Republican side.

It was the idea of the fathers, he statement was received with an outburst of applicable on the Republican side.

It was the idea of the fathers, he said, that the people's representatives should decide the question of taxation. It was not that two Senators from a State which has less population than his district, should have an equal voice with New York or Pennsylvania in laying taxes on the shoulders of the people. If by proper methods, he declared in conclusion, it was desired to test the right of the Senate against that of the House
he would be on the side of the House, [Prolonged applause.]

Speaker Henderson, in reply, said two points of order were before the House. First, the constitutionality of the Senate's action; second, the point that the point of order came too late.
As to the latter, he decided that if the point could be made at all, it could be made at any time. As to the former, he said it had been decided, again and again, that the question was one for the House, not for the Speaker to decide. He therefore overruied the point of order. This left the question before the House as to whether the House should ask for a conference. The Speaker decided it was a debatable question.

Mr. McCall of Massachusetts said

Mr. McCall of Massachusetts said his chief objection to the Senate bill was that, in passing it, the Senate was acting outside the Constitution, and usurping the prerogative of the House concerning taxation.

Mr. Richardson of Tennessee said the people were groaning under the millions of war taxation. Congress had attempted to take off a part of this enormous burden.

Now, just as this relief was about to be realized, a fine-drawn constitutional parliamentary issue was raised. If the objection prevailed, then the friends of high taxation would rejoice, for by a technicality they would have suspended the reduction of taxation in midair between the two houses.

Well, when you come to such a conclusion, the thing to do is to go after it. Somebody who comes to such a conclusion and acts on the impulse, will get it, and you might as well be the lucky person as anybody else. in a straight line" and acts promptly and persistently.

If you have not yet looked over the list of prizes carefully, do so now, and see if the spirit does not move you. There is a portion for six and also for seven. There is something (and something very good) for everybody who puts forth an effort toward extending the circulation of The Times.

An Opportune Time.

Now is the time for everybody to take a new grip on things, and go ahead. The contest for Times premiums will participate in the general stimulation, and subscriptions will roll in more rapidly than ever before. If you have been thinking of entering this competition, and have been hesitating, you can't afford to hesitate any longer, and miss such an opportunity. She who hesitates a little too long is lost. It may not be such a difficult thing to get out among your neighbors and secure a few hundred subscriptions as you imagrine. And the one who sends in a few hundred subscriptions may capture one of the big prizes. At any rate, one who gets up a club of any size at all is certain to get some prize. There are more than five hundred prizes to be awarded, and this means a pretty widespread distribution. A lot of people who hardly expect to get anything, will be surprised with nice gifts. The only prerequisite is that some effort be put forth. It's easy to try.

Moderate Results Profitable.

People who are not taking The Times now, will want to do so, and those who are taking it will want to get a new grip on it. They must read about all the fine opportunities for money-making that are going to be afloat. This is the time above all others to start out on a soliciting expedition. People will respond because they feel good-humored and want to keep up with current events. Now is the time for contestants in The Times prize-distribution contest to take hold in earnest and redouble their former efforts. There's money in it for every-body who takes hold and accomplishes even moderate results.

They are Everywhere.

OMNIBUS CLAIMS BILL.

It is quite a little army of earnest people who are out in the highways and conclaims an omnibus-claims bill, aggregating $2,989,000.

HAWAIIAN COINS.

BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS-P.M.;

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—Senator of the programme in this distribution. The Times believes in advertising, and this is advertising by are for all government duties, and that when once so received they shall not perform the comment of the paper, but they are not only aveiling. Times believes in advertising, and this is advertising by a most direct method. Not only are new patrons brought to the paper, but a most direct method. Not only are new patrons brought to the paper, but the old patrons are visited, and their interest reëstablished. A solicitor can make good points for the prize-winning by obtaining advance agreements from present subscribers, and it is only a matter of good nature on the part of a patron to give such an agreement. He intends to take the paper right along, and he might as well let some deserving person derive a little benefit from this good intention. So he signs the blank, and the solicitor gees along with twelve good points to his credit.

A Flood Tide.

The advice given by Shakespeare about the flood tide which leads on to fortune has sone ringing down the grooves of time, and no philosopher has yet risen to dispute its soundness, The flood tide seems to be here in The Times prize contest, and those who expect to float in must get aboard in a hurry. The hints given in these columns, following the rain, and with the return of sunshine and universal confidence, is having the expected effect. Contestants are waking up all along the line—in this city, in Pasadena, and in all the outlying cities, towns and hamlets of the country, people are buckling in to the work, and the subscriptions are rolling in. One solicitor has several thousand—nonths to her credit. She is going after the biggest prizes. This contest is not for lazy people; or those who hesitate and faiter, it requires nerve, prompt decision and active effort to carry the day. A Flood Tide.

These are the only restrictions on entering the contest, and for all who are eligible The Times is prepared to guarantee an open field and absolute equality of conditions. Hence people who are thinking of trying their hand, may do so with the fullest confidence that there is to be no juggle in this business, and that they will be treated with fairness all along the line. The Times stakes its reputation for integrity and honest dealing on the awarding of these prizes as announced to the people who honestly win them. The Times is abundantly able to carry out its contracts, and there will be no ifs or ands about the prizes forthcoming, when they are due. Confidence and square dealing are the keynotes of this enterprise, and the open seame to success is effective work. in was in supposed to come from laboring men. While this has been true in some instances, says the St. Louis Merchant, we personally know that very few members of labor organizations care to put themselves on record as being opposed to the collection of just debts. The argument is made by some that if the garnishment laws are strengthened that merchants will use them for oppression instead of for the purpose for which they are intended.
The history of the workings of the Ilinois law, which is about as radical a measure as could be devised, does not bear out this line of reasoning.
But if it is true that the laboring men appose such legislation it is because they are not well informed on the subject. It has been demonstrated that an honest man finds it easier to obtain credit where proper collection laws are in force. In a State where the laws are lax the merchant, as a rule, is ex-

INDEX NUMBER FOR 1900. A. Sauerbeck gives the following result of his calculations of the index number for commodity prices for each year from 1880 to 1900: Dried Fruits, Nuts and Raisins. The index number for 1900 is 10 per cent. above 1899, and is the highest since 1884. It is still 25 per cent. below the standard period, which was equivalent to the average of the twenty-five years, 1853-77. Compared with 1896—lowest year on record—the rise amounts to 23 per cent.

The index number is obtained by taking a list of staple commodities and striking an average. The average for HYNES, Feb. 11.—[Regular Correspondence.] The Crown creamery Company has taken action looking to compliance with the ordinances in force in Los Angeles city respecting the purity of lacteal products. The directors of the company have decided that from now on all patrons who strain, aerate and cool the milk which they deliver at the creamery shall receive 4 cents additional for each 100 pounds of milk delivered.

The creamery company has manufactured 200 aerators at a cost of $400 and will furnish one for the use of each patron. The company is not shipping milk to Los Angeles, but for several months has been sending cream to that city.

Last month's pay roll of the creamery amounted to $4000. Improvements which will cost nearly $3000 are about to be installed. The capacity of the refrigerating plant will be doubled, two new separators will be put in and a house will be built for the use of the manager.

the golfers out in force and the course presented a very animated scene during the afternoon. By the way, the "bunker" between the first and second greens, consisting of a high wire fence, just far enough away from the second tee that the men could drive over, but most of the women fell short of it, has been removed, greatly to the satisfaction of the latter. The course will be in perfect order for the opening of the tournament on the 15th.

MINISTERS' ELK CHASE. RIVERSIDE, Feb. 11 .- [Regular Cor RIVERGEDE, Feb. 1—Regular Cor-respondence.] The Ministers' Union of Riverside met this week and passed resolutions denouncing the festivities attending the institution of the new lodge of Eiks here last Monday night. But several of the pas-tors took occasion to denounce the affair in unmeasured terms, and in a manner, in one instance, that bespoke tors took occasion to denounce the fair in unmeasured terms, and in a manner, in one instance, that bespoke anger.

On the occasion named, the candidates for admission to the local lodge, including many well-known professional and business men, were visited by large delegations of the order from Los Angeles, Rediands, Santa Barbara and San Diego. The institution ceremonies, it is said, were conducted with cclat. A banquet followed at Armory Hall. Inquiry at police head-quarters shows that there was no rowdyism or undue hilarity connected with the affair. Things were their accustomed quiet the following day, and it was supposed the matter had passed into history until the ministers resurrected it yesterday. If the spread was as big and as bad as it was painted, it was surely a most intemperate function. It was contrasted with the erstwhile famous feast of Belshaszer, while "bacchanalian orgies" were alleged to have been on tap for hours at a stretch.

The question most frequently asked on the streets of Riverside today was: "Why does the Ministerial Union single out a new social organization for its denunciation?" Why not Frank Miller, for instance, the proprietor of the leading hotel of the place, and a prominent parishloner of one of the churches? At least one member of the Ministerial Union has been seen at a banquet at the Glenwood, when wine flowed freely, but nothing denunciatory relating thereto has ever fallen from that minister's lips. Liquor, malt and spirituous, is served in public and private, day in and out, at this house, as some of the ministers know. "Why not resolute about this?" the peopleask. At a recent dinner party given in the public dining-room of Miller's hostelry, wine is said to have flowed with a vehemence that would have made any Elk on earth pull in his horns and take to tall timber. But never a word about that has been preached from the local pulpits.

Will Witness Plucking.

The members of the Chamber of Com-merce have been invited by the pro-prietors of the South Passadena Ostrich Farm to visit that place February 22, and witness the plucking of the birds. The workings of the solar motor will also be shown to the visitors.

The chapel car Emmanuel, with B. Jacques in charge, assisted by Thomas Moffett, has arrived in the city over the Southern Pacific, and is on a side track at River Station, where these gentlemen will conduct noon meetings in the car. They will hold evening meetings in the San Fernando-street mission, No. 1510 San Fernando street.

Fred D. Culver of Los Angeles has returned from the Philippines, leaving his father, Capt. J. H. Culver, and two brothers still in the service. The woung man became ill, and was sent back on the Warren, which brought 500 sick soldiers, although his enlistment would not have expired until June. He has had all of a soldier's life he wanta, and will not reënlist. He thinks that the hope of America in the Philippines lies in educating the rising generation.

Jet of Cavour tive of The Southern California Academy of Reiences will meet this evening at 8 o'clock at Ebell Hall, No. 724 South Broadway, and Dr. J. A. Johnson will lecture on "The High Sierras-Between Tehachepi and Mount Lyell." The lecture will be of a geological character and illustrated from photographs. Thursday evening the geological section will meet at the offices of Dr. Wilbur Hendry, Douglas building. Prof. W. L. Watts will be the lecturer, and his subject will be "The Geology of Petroleum," on which he is a recognized authority.

Generous Mrs. Hough.

Mrs. Anna Hough has extended still further the hand of generosity toward the University of Southern California. As previously stated in The Times, she donated property to the value of 340,000 toward raising the second $100,000 endowment. She has now made a deed for property valued at $25,000, to the first endowment, providing the $100,000 is raised by October 1. As Field Secretary Chase already has over $65,000 raised on the first endowment, it will now require less than $10,000 to complete it. In two donations this charitable woman thus gives a total of $65,000 to the university.

Interlocked Wheels.

Interlocked Wheels.

Last evening, just before dark, a horse hitched to a buggy occupied by two ladies, became frightened at a car, at the corner of Ninth and Main streets, and backed into the wagon of a Chinaman. The wheels of the two vehicles became interlocked, and it looked as if there would be an ugly accident. The rearing and plunging horse driven by the ladies was surrounded by a crowd of men who held it fast, and it required a quarter of an hour or more to get the wheels of the two vehicles apart. The ladies unconcernedly kept their places in the buggy until they got out to lighten it, and it is probably unnecessary to say that the Chinaman and his horse seemed utterly oblivious to the

Are After Information.

A. G. Schulz, H. F. Berg and J. H. Williams, constituting a committee of the Porterville Board of Trade, are in this city in the interest of that body. These men are fruit growers in their home county, and, besides investigating the workings of the various commercial bodies of Southern California, are making inquiry as to the growing and curing of lemons. They are guests at the Hollenbeck, and after spending several days in Los Angeles, will visit other points in this end of the State. Fr a few hours yesterday afternoon they were entertained by Secretary Frank Wiggins of the Chamber of Commerce.

Remember the poor—The Good Sa-maritan department of the Bethlehem Benevolent Board solicits new and cast-off clothing of all kinds; shoes, cast-off clothing of all kinds; shoes, beds and furniture, especially bedding; food supplies, broken food from hotels and restaurants, food left over from banquets and suppers, culls of fruit and vegetables. Everything will be carefully distributed among the needy. Send to Vignes and Ducommun street, or call up Tel. John 26 for wagon, or when wanting man, woman or boy for work. Orchestra and Prayer.

Tonight the services at the Pacific Gospel Union will be conducted by Rev. H. Weaver, assisted by the English Latheran Christian Endeavor Society and Sunday-school orchestra. Each night attractive musical services will be provided.

Les Angeles Sets Pace.

That the fame of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce is spreading is proved by the inquiries which have recently reached that organization from various cities, asking for information as to the plan upon which it is maintained. The latest seeker after information is Portland, Or.

Child's Study Circle.

A meeting of the Child's Study Circle was held yesterday afternoon at the Castelar-street school. This meeting was well attended, and much interest was shown in the subject of discussion which was "Promotion." Those who read papers were Miss Charlotte Fox and Miss Daisy Graham.
